He said Democracy had made the University of Virginia the crown and head of the spiendid school system and declared amid cheering that the V. M. L. is the most spiendid military school in the country. He referred eloquently to William and Mary College, and to its fine management by the Democratic party. He showed that he had gotten through, with the aid of Senator Hoar, a bill restoring William and Mary, which was destroyed during the war, and said that with the $25,000 given by a Democratic Legislature she had come back to her old place and had been made even greater than ever.

The speaker showed that the instrument framed by this body contained a clause which would have disfranchised be voted upon separately, and that the disfranchising clause was hurled back and the free school system established and ordained by the white people of the

"But they say we have surved the schools," he went on, and then he showed how by Democratic legislation they had been fostered and built up until now the system ranks up with the be. In the land. The Democratic party servled your State debt, raised your credit to the highest standard, lowered your taxes, and at the same time put your treasury in a better condition than it ever was before, and I say that no State government in the country possesses a fairer or whiter name.

"The Democratic party has no desire to escape criticism. Criticism is a good thing, but it should be made according to facts. They talk about graft in the public schools, and stealing under Democratic administrations," said the Senator, and then he poured hot shot into the Republicans for graft and scandal at Washington.

He then rasped them for the insurance seandals in New York, and this line of talk evidently pleased his hearers, for there was great applause. A voice from the audience yelled: "Go on," as the speaker paused for a moment.

"Thank you, my friend," was the quick reply. "That's pretty good evidence that one man here is going to vote the Demogratic ticket."

Senator Daniel closed with one of the Senator Daniel closed with one of the rost magnificent perorations ever heard in the Academy, in which he made beautiful reference to the return of the Confederate battleflags by the United States government and to the splendid ovation tendered President Roosevelt here the other day. In regard to the ordinance for the earlier closing of saloons, which councilman C. C. Those in favor of it, and who have so expressed themselves, are C. H. Mycrs, A. F. Donald, F. S. Wright, Henry Kain, J. J. Schwartz and Moore and Burke, Mr. L. M. Latham thought that the licenses ought to be allowed to ren the limit, and said that he himself was opposed to the passage of such an ordinance. These seven metanats are among the most prominent in this line of business, and as six of them are favorably impressed with the idea back of the proposed ordinance, it would seem that Mr. Cox has less of a fight in store for him than it was at first thought, when he attempts to put his ordinance through. The question has long agitated the minds of many of the council, and it has often been seriously discussed by the public in general. If it whis the favor of the saloon-keepers themselves, as it seems to have done in most of them, there is every aparent likelihood of the attempt to pass the ordinance, having a successful issue. STRIKE SITUATION SERIOUS

Vain Appeal to Moscow Strikers on Basis of Experiences in United States.

(By Associated Press.) ST. PETERSBURG, October 24, 3:15 A. M.—The railroad strike situation has now intered on a highly serious phase. The movement is spreading rapidly to all the railroads of the empire, and apparently cannot be stopped, while in many cities it is communicating itself to the mill and factory employes. The general strike in all branches of labor which the socialists planned for the end of this year is seemingly bursting forth of its own volition. Minister of Finance Kokovsoff yesterday received a telegram from the governing committee of the Moscow Bourse, which said that a continuation of the strike for a week longer would force every factory n week longer would force every factory in the Moscow region to shut down owink to lack of coal whether or not the factory hands took part in the strike.

The same condition of paralysis threatens all the trade and industry of Russia unless the strike is speedily settled. The inhabitants of Moscow are already feeling the effects of the strike in the increased prices of food, and they are even confronted by famine.

Spoke to Deaf Ears.

Spoke to Deaf Ears.

As the demands of the men are purely political it seems impossible to satisfy them by economical concessions. Prince Hilkoff, Minister of aRilroads, yesterday vainly appealed to the Moscow strikers on the basis of his own experiences in England and the United States, but he spoke to deaf ears. The men talked of nothing but their political rights, which, of course, the prince was powerless to grant. The situation is apparently at a deadlock, from which egress can only be had by the surrender of one side or, perhad by the surrender of one side or, per-haps, the proclamation of martial law on the railroads.

Last Link Severed.

A flood of dispatches yesterday from railroad centurs all over Russia announced the complete tying up of all transportation. The last link that bound Moscow, the commercial center of the empire, with the outer world, was broken yesterday afternoon, when the men on the Nicholal road, connecting Moscow the Nicholal road, connecting Moscow with St. Petersburg, went on strike. The engineers shut off steam in their engineers and Prince Hilkoff had great difficulty is obtaining a crew for the special train which brought him to St. Petersburg at midnight.

St. Petersburg has only one line to the frontier, and the employes of this line held a meeting late last night to decide whether or not they should participate in the strike movement.

Booker-Powell Recital---Superb Mason and Hamlin Piano From the Cable Company to Be Used.

> No event as important, locally, as the recital of Miss Betty Burwell Booker and Mr. John Powell at the Academy next Thursday night has ever happened in Richmond. Both artists have gathered fame and recognition of their ability and genius.

The Cable Company, through its manager here, Mr. J. G. Corley, has brought about the recital, and, with the departure of Mr. Powell for Vienna to finish his course with his illustrious music master, Leschetizky, and the return of Miss Booker from abroad, after a flattering season in London, Richmonders will have the first opportunity to see her two great artists in recital together as professionals.

To secure a piano with the finest possible tone for a virtuoso the Cable Company's manager has secured from their Mason and Hamlin Branch one of the best concert grands they have in their studios in Boston. This piano, a magnificent instrument, has been secured at considerable cost in the matter of transportation and care, and it will be heard under the magic touch of Powell in a splendid lection of the masters during the recital, as well as under the touch of the accompanist to Miss Booker, whose exquisite voice has already made her a London success among the finest and best of the artists in the concert world.

The Mason and Hamlin factory has reached the highest point of artistic endeavor in the piano which Mr. Powell will play, and the same instrument provided for some of the greatest virtuosi of the world will be given him for the Booker-Powell recital.
